living conditions education cultural factors tradition religion the system of government foreign policy the economic structure trade unionism trade banking national level defence the armed forces etc bibliography pp 447 to 469 this book is a result of a joint conference which was held from 18th 22nd july 2017 under the theme religion citizenship and development southern african perspectives the theme of the conference was adopted in order to underline the importance and significance of religion in the socio economic development of people in the world generally and in southern and central africa in particular the papers in the book are divided into two volumes volume one consists of papers which directly discuss religion and development in one form or another the second volume contains papers that discuss religion and other pertinent issues related to development the papers are grouped into sub themes for ease of reference these include citizenship and development migration and development disability and development pentecostal churches and development and religion and society all in all despite a divergence of sub themes in volume two all point to issues to do with the role of religion in development in southern and central africa today cultural traditions do adversely affect the education of many people in the world women are unfortunately the most affected victims of their culture this book demonstrates how cultural traditions can militate against the education of women in zambia with a focus on the tumbuka tribe the evidence at hand demonstrates that patrilineal groupings are strongholds of the patriarchal predisposition and patriarchal attitudes and cultural traditions do not recognize women as equal partners with men the tumbuka women s experiences and beliefs reflect socio cultural traditional norms that tend to limit gender equality and compel women to accept and justify male domination at the expense of their own status and to regard consequent inequalities as normal evidence demonstrates that the initiation rites an active institution for girls of pubescent age interfere more with the school based education of girls the women are active social agents as well as passive learners who will not allow the girls they are coaching to question the purpose for some traditional practices that are oppressive and directly cause them to fail to complete their schooling successfully the baptist convention of malawi bacoma grew out of the baptist mission in malawi s work that began almost 50 years ago as a result of plans by the central african southern baptist convention mission to expand their works from zimbabwe to malawi although bacoma owes much of their tradition to the white southern baptists of the us they are typically a malawian expression of the church in five chapters the author a long standing principle of the baptist theological seminary of malawi offers a history of the baptist convention of malawi the five themes being bacoma s polygenetic nature evangelistic zeal and the development of bacoma 1970 1989 women and youth in evangelism and the development of bacoma separation and cooperation a loose partnership and the people this paper discusses the findings of the assessment of the financial system in zambia nonperforming loans have risen and private sector credit growth has turned negative owing to the severe pressures of 2015 16 the pressures included slower economic growth sharply lower copper prices electricity shortages very tight monetary policy and mounting fiscal arrears and severe fiscal funding pressures looking ahead the financial system faces considerable risks owing to high dependence on copper exports rising public debt and funding pressures and an uncertain monetary policy regime a sharper than expected global slowdown may lead to copper price declines and additional pressures on government finance and the exchange rate a lack of fiscal adjustment may worsen government payments arrears further impacting asset quality this 1933 study explores the difficulties of meeting the multiple agenda of modern schooling in a case study of a rural african community a very useful resource not only for psychologists and education professionals but universally for all those experts interested in multicultural assessment heikki lyytinen phd professor of developmental neuropsychology university of jyv skyl finland this volume provides a thorough and provocative examination of how different cultures measure intelligence and skill why they use the tools they use and how their assessment methods are changing in the globalizing world the contributors discuss the extent to which methods of assessment are limited and culture bound these methods must be revised and adapted to become relevant to foreign cultures to this end this book uses theoretical models and empirical studies to explore the use and validity of standardized tests language and literacy tests job interviews and other methods of assessment across various cultures from both developed and developing countries key topics include national and international standards and guidelines for test development and use limitations of western assessment tools for populations in the developing world the challenges of measuring abilities and competencies in hispanics latinos developing and adapting language and literacy assessments in arabic speaking countries assessing competencies in reading and mathematics in zambian children theses on any subject submitted by the academic libraries in the uk and ireland the study was in response to the pressing quest for educational qualitative improvement in zambia an alternative qualitative method to school improvement is suggested the study describes and examines the administrative and leadership characteristics and climates of five zambian secondary schools designated and nominated by the ministry of general education and culture as successful schools interviews and questionnaires administered to headteachers and teachers were used for data collection content and item analysis in the interviews and questionnaire responses were used the findings are not consistent in all the five schools investigated with the literature on effective schools no school covered was perceived favourably in all the five dimensions tested appropriate recommendations are made for policy makers practitioners and stake holders
