Framed 2008-09-04

The Perfect Crime: It's a work of art in Frank Cottrell Boyce's ingenious story. Framed: Dylan is the only boy living in the tiny Welsh town of Manod. His parents run the Snowdonia Oasis Auto-Marvel Garage, and when he's not trying to persuade his sisters to play football, Dylan is in charge of the petrol log, and that means he gets to keep track of everyone coming in and out of Manod: what car they drive, what they're called, even their favourite flavour of crisps. But when a mysterious convoy of lorries trundles up the misty mountainside towards an old disused mine, even Dylan is confounded. Who are these people, and what have they got to hide? A story inspired by a press cutting describing how, during World War II, the treasured contents of London's National Gallery were stored in Welsh slate mines. Once a month, a morale-boosting masterpiece would be unveiled in the village and then returned to London for viewing. This is a funny and touching exploration of how art, its beauty and its value touches the life of one little boy and his big family in a very small town. This edition of Framed includes bonus material and discussion questions from Frank Cottrell Boyce and illustrations by Steven Lenton.

Cosmic 2009-07-03

It's one giant leap for all boy-kind in Frank Cottrell Boyce's out-of-this-world story. Cosmic: Liam is too big for his boots and his football strip and his school blazer, but being super-sized height-wise has its advantages. He's the only eleven-year-old to ever ride the g-force-defying Cosmic Rollercoaster, or to be offered the chance to drive a Porsche. Long-legged Liam makes a giant leap for boy-kind by competing with a group of adults for the chance to go into space. Is Liam the best boy for the job? Sometimes being big isn't all about being a grown-up. This edition of Cosmic includes bonus material and discussion questions from Frank cottrell boyce and features fantastic cover artwork from steven lenton
